

WASHINGTON

Reception Honors The Wilsons

Also at the reception was Col. Julia Hamblet, director of the Women Marines, who accompanied the Pates on the world trip. Recalling highlights of the journey, Col. Hamblet said she inspected the women in the Royal Naval Service's recruit depot near London, Women Marine units in Naples and Honolulu, and addressed the women in the Thai Navy in Bangkok. The Thai navy women, organized less than two years, now have 70 officers and 200 enlisted women all stationed in Bangkok, she said.

Among those dropping by were Mrs. Donald Quarles, who came alone, and Mrs. Charles S. Thomas, who said the Navy Secretary was attending a Republican rally in Norfolk. Mrs. Arthur W. Radford talking to Mrs. Allen Dulles, just back from a three months trip around the world with her CIA director husband; Mrs. Herbert Brownell, Secretary of Commerce and Mrs. Sinclair Weeks, and Deputy Secretary of Defense and Mrs. Reuben Robertson.

Also there were CIA Deputy Director Lt. Gen. Charles P. Cabell and Mrs. Cabell, Lt. Gen. and Mrs. Alonzo Fox, Assistant Secretary of Defense and Mrs. Wilfred J. McNell, Assistant Secretary of Defense and Mrs. Carter L. Burgess and Assistant Secretary of Defense and Mrs. Furnas.

